District Newsletter

Summer 2007

Message from Karen

We have seen some great things happen this year both in the Capitol as well as in the District. This issue will give the following highlights of all my activities.

Before the Assembly recessed for the summer, my legislative package began moving in the Senate. It's exciting to see it get closer to becoming new laws that benefit the residents of the 47th Assembly District as well as of the state.

The Select Committee on Foster Care continues to hold hearings to address the gaps in state's Foster Care System. I was privileged to have Holocaust survivors from the 47th Assembly District participate in ceremonies at the Capitol and in the District. Students from Los Angeles Center for Enriched Studies had the opportunity to hear stories from the Survivors first hand.

To kick-off the summer, we hosted a People's Council Small Business Commission meet and greet. The Health Commission hosted a Community Health Fair with Los Angeles City Councilman Herb Wesson.

There is a list of health fair participants on pages 11 and 12. There are also photos from this exciting event.

There are still exciting things planned for the rest of the year. Look for a new District Web page in the coming months. You will be able to get more up-to-the minute information on what's going on in the District.

A new mailer with useful information will be going out this fall. We will also be hosting a town hall on Iraq. I am very excited to announce that I will have Satellite Office hours at the Baldwin Hills Crenshaw Center starting this fall.

We have accomplished a lot, but there is still a lot of work to be done. I thank all of you for giving me the opportunity to serve as your Assemblymember. I hope you enjoy this issue of my newsletter.

Majority Leader Karen Bass Helps Secure Funding for the Historic Vision Theater in Leimert Park

LOS ANGELES – As a member of the Cultural Historical Endowment Board, Majority Leader Karen Bass (Assembly District 47) was able to help secure more than $2.4 million in funding for the Vision Theatre, which was the largest amount granted to any single project. The funds obtained by Bass, who worked in collaboration with City Councilman Bernard Parks (Council District 8), will help renovate the 1930's theater that has been closed for the past several years.

"Securing funds to help reopen this cultural gem in the community was one of my priorities when I went to Sacramento," states Majority Leader Bass. "We have been committed to making sure the doors of the Vision Theater will reopen again. It will serve as a catalyst to revitalize the Leimert Park area."

The funds were awarded to the City of Los Angeles Department of Cultural Affairs, which oversees the management of the city owned theatre. The renovation of the facility will adapt the Theater so that it can serve as the major showcase venue for performing arts events, films produced by and featuring African Americans as well as serve as the foremost venue for community lectures, assembly and exhibits.

In addition, the Manchester Jr. Arts Center will provide hands-on training that will utilize the Vision Theater as the on-site laboratory for skill development in the art of stage production including stage craft, computer application for the entertainment lighting industry, technical production, theater management, sound design, production planning, American theater practice and law of the arts and House and box office management.

"The Arts Center is greatly needed in this community. With the west side housing the entertainment industry, there is a multitude of employment opportunities for people for below the line industry skills that the center focus its training around," adds Majority Leader Bass.

The Endowment funds historic and cultural preservation projects. In addition to preserving historic resources commonly associated with California as well as funds projects that tell the parts of California's story that are absent or underrepresented in existing historical parks, monuments, museums, and other facilities.

Other projects in Los Angeles funded by the Cultural Historical Endowment Board include:

- Project Restore Barnsdall Park Art Park – $1,935,000
- Kidspace Children's Museum – $1,741,500
- Echo Park Boathouse – $1,451,250
- Museum of Latin American Art – $1,239,367.50
- California African American Museum – $200,000
- Los Angeles County Museum of Art May Company Building – $483,750
- Pasadena Playhouse – $967,500

Legislation to Address Disparity Gaps Moves out of Senate Committee

Majority Leader Bass' legislation that addresses the disparity gaps outlined in the State of Black California Report, which was released earlier this year, passed out of Senate Committees.

Assembly Bill 658 (Pilot Programs) addresses the disproportionate rate of African American male homicide rates throughout the state particularly in the inner city. The bill calls for the establishment of pilot programs in Oakland and Los Angeles, which have the highest rates of homicide among Black males. As a whole, the black male homicide rate is 10 times that of white males. This bill passed out of the Senate Public Safety Committee with a 3 to 2 opposed vote.

Assembly Bill 741 (Infant Mortality Reduction Strategies) establishes pilot programs to address the infant mortality rates of African-Americans. The Infant Mortality Rate of Blacks in California mirror rates of third world countries with approximately 11 babies not making it to their first birthday out of every 1,000 African American live births. In contrast, the white infant mortality rate is 4 out of 1,000 live births. The Senate Health Committee approved this bill with an 8 to 3 vote.

Assembly Bill 1534 (Pay Day Loans), introduced by Speaker Fabian Núñez and co-authored by Majority Leader Bass, examines the pay day loan industry that has cropped up in minority, low income areas throughout state. The goal of the bill is to gather concrete information about the concern that these businesses are getting residents in poorer areas in serious financial trouble. The legislation requires the Department of Corporations to prepare a report containing the number of customers each year who enter into payday loans; data on the average number of transactions and the transaction amount as well as the number of loans that go into default. This bill was approved in the Senate Business, Professions & Economic Development Committee with a 7 to 2 vote.

"It's important for all Californians to have the opportunity to experience a good quality of life," states Majority Leader Bass. "We cannot continue to let the most vulnerable communities in the state continue to suffer disproportionately due to their race and/or economic status. It's a travesty when we see the people who need the most resources and information not be able to get it." --- Majority Leader Bass

Legislation to Reduce Barriers to Employment for Ex-Offenders Passes out of Senate Committee

Legislation to help eliminate barriers to employment for ex-offenders by Assembly Majority Leader Karen Bass passed out of the Senate Business, Professions and Economic Development Committee. The bill would require that an individual with an expunged record receive a license issued by the Department of Consumer Affairs as long as the individual doesn't have additional convictions, its been at least three years since the conviction was dismissed or its been at least five years since the completion of their sentence.

"Its important that we continue to address the gaps that were outlined in the State of Black CA Report including the recidivism issue that is plaguing communities throughout the state," said Majority Leader Bass. "It is a complete contradiction to say that our goal is to rehabilitate someone in order for them to transition back into the community but then limit their ability to obtain viable employment due to unnecessary restrictions. This legislation would reward people who have successfully got their lives back on track."

The proposal also requires the boards regulated by the Department of Consumer Affairs to provide a copy of the criminal history record to all individuals when a decision is made to deny a license or initiate suspension or revocation proceedings based on a criminal record. This would exclude serious offenses including sex offenses.

Assembly Bill 1025 is sponsored by the National Employment Law Project and is supported by the American Civil Liberties Union; California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO; the Office of Alameda District Attorney Nancy O'Malley; and various organizations. The legislation passed the Committee with a five (favor) to three (opposed) vote and is headed to Senate Appropriations.

Department of Consumer Affairs issues licenses in more than 100 business and 200 professional categories including security guards, doctors, dentists, contractors, cosmetologists and automotive repair facilities.

Legislation to Slow "Runaway Production" Clears Senate Business, Professions and Economic Development Committee

In an effort to support the Golden State's film and television production industry, a group of California Assembly Members lead by the Assembly Majority Leader Karen Bass (D-Los Angeles), successfully obtained a passing vote from the Senate Business, Professions and Economic Development Committee on Assembly Bill 1696. This legislation will help create production opportunities in order to eliminate runaway production, which has created a negative effect on California jobs in this lucrative industry.

Along with Assembly Majority Leader Bass this bill was authored by Assemblymembers Betty Karnette, chair of the Arts and Entertainment Committee (D-Long Beach), Paul Krekorian (D-Burbank), Anthony Portantino (D-Pasadena) and Cameron Smyth (R-Santa Clarita).

"California's history is woven around the Entertainment industry and we are not going to give up our title of the Entertainment Capitol of the World," states Assembly Majority Leader Bass. "This industry has served as a pillar in many communities throughout the state providing employment opportunities particularly in trades like carpentry, audio/visual, production and merchandising. Its time for California to step up to the plate to protect these jobs as well as opportunities for small business like florists, caterers, and public relations firms that all support the entertainment industry."

In 2006, when feature films Iron Man and Oceans 13 were filmed in rural Kern County, it received an economic boost of approximately $12.6 million. Santa Barbara County received more than $16.7 million from the filming of Nancy Drew, Blades of Glory, Snakes on a Train and Pirates of the Caribbean.

According to California Film Commission, the growing cost of production is forcing companies to look at their options and other states as well as countries are aggressively going after this lucrative business. Motion picture production sustains employment for more than 240,000 people with earnings of approximately $17 billion in California according to the state's Film Commission.

The bill passed out of the Senate Committee with a seven (favor) to two (opposed) vote. It will be heard in Appropriations and hopefully move to the Senate Floor for a house vote in August. To find out more about this legislation and to cast your support, contact your local State Senator's office.

Broad Support for Legislation that Protects New School Construction Funds

A coalition of business, community and civic leaders joined the Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) and Los Angeles Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa to support Assembly Bill 1014. The legislation, authored by Assembly Majority Leader Bass and sponsored by LAUSD, will ensure that state matching funds are available to build the new schools required to reduce busing, relieve overcrowded campuses and eliminate multi-track calendars.

California currently allocates funding for school construction programs based on complex enrollment projection formulas, often providing less funding to large, overcrowded Districts that may be experiencing declining enrollment. AB 1014 proposes an alternative enrollment projection to better represent school district growth patterns, providing a more stable and accurate method for distributing school construction funds.

"I am glad to have an opportunity to carry this legislation that will benefit LAUSD," said Assembly Majority Leader Karen Bass. "This issue affects urban school districts throughout the state that have been faced with overcrowded schools in growing communities. AB 1014 was developed to address this issue by making sure there's equity in the criteria for large districts like LAUSD to apply for state funds to build new schools. Currently the criteria is based on a one-size fits all model, which creates a catch 22 situation for many urban districts. The bottom line is that we must ensure that our children have a quality educational environment."

The legislation has garnered support from The Advancement Project, Association of California Urban School Districts, California Association of School Business Officials, California Teachers Association, City of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce, Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, and United Teachers of Los Angeles.

AB 1014 is scheduled to be heard before the Senate Appropriations Committee in August.

Education Legislation Moves to the Senate

Assembly Majority Leader Bass continues her commitment to education as she moves her legislation to the next phase. Bass had four Assembly bills focusing on education (AB) that were passed by the Senate and are currently in the Senate.

"It's imperative that we continue to find ways to help improve our education system in the state which at one time was considered one of the best in the nation," states Majority Leader Bass. "I hope that these proposals will help bridge some of the gaps that exist in the various areas of education while support best practices."

Bass' Assembly bills on educational issues (AB) include:

- AB 177 – Funding Extension for Soledad Enrichment Action (SEA) Charter School
Extends funding for another 10 years for the Soledad Enrichment Action Charter School, which serves at-risk youth in Los Angeles County. SEA is an educational alternative to keep youth in school and out of gangs.
- AB 1540 – Cash for College Program
Creates a statewide Cash for College Program, which helps low-income and first generation college-goers complete the application process so they can access state and federal financial aid.
- AB 1014 – New School Construction
Helps school districts qualify for state construction funds in urban areas like Los Angeles. Under the current funding formula year around schools are at a disadvantage.
- AB 1316 – Income Supplement for Retired Teachers
Enables disabled teachers to receive a retirement allowance while their application for disability is processing.

Foster Care Legislation Passes out of the Assembly

Embarking on a new legislative session, Assembly Majority Leader Karen Bass' (D-Los Angeles) continues to move her foster care reform agenda. Serving as the chair of the Assembly Select Committee on Foster Care, Bass has pieces of legislation currently in the Senate.

"Last year, we made some great first steps but there is still a lot of work to be done to reform a system that has many issues that need to be addressed. Along with the other members of the bi-partisan Select Committee, we will continue to be diligent on this problem because the 80,000 Californian children in foster care are depending on us to take care of our responsibility. Its important that we keep the work moving forward."

According to Bass, the Select Committee will continue to create avenues for foster youth and stakeholders to have a voice in foster care reform. Caregivers and services providers have not received a rate increase since 2001 even though in many cases, their caseloads have doubled. Bass' Foster Care Assembly bills (AB) that are still moving through the legislative process include:

- AB 149 – Foster Youth Relative Searches
Provide computer technology to help social workers identify family members to help foster youth connect with their families after leaving the System.
- AB 184 – Independent Living Parity
Allows foster youth adopted at age 14 or older or in care of non-relative guardianship placement to be eligible for Independent Living Program Services.

Select Committee on Foster Care held Hearing on the Status of Implementing Last Session's Accomplishments

Majority Leader Bass and the Assembly Select Committee on Foster Care held a hearing at the Capitol to determine the status of implementing the accomplishments from the last legislative session.

"It's important that we follow-up to ensure that there is implementation of the things that were accomplished last year. Although the strides that were made last year were a good start, we have to maintain our focus to improve the Foster Care System. We will continue to move the agenda forward while monitoring what should be in the process now." --- Majority Leader Bass, chair of the Select Committee on Foster Care

Various agencies reported on the more than $85 million allocation to foster care reform and the eight new laws signed by the Governor. Foster Care stakeholders were also on hand to report to the 18 member Select Committee on their issues and concerns with the implementation process.

Did you know?

- There are more than 83,000 youth in California's Foster Care System, which is the largest in the country
- Los Angeles County has the largest foster youth population in the state with more than 28,000 youth

Select Committees on Foster Care and on Youth Violence held Joint Hearing on Foster Youth who Crossover to the Juvenile System

Assemblymember Anna Caballero joined Majority Leader Bass and the Assembly Select Committee on Foster Care and Select Committee on Youth Violence Prevention for an informational hearing on the issues and needs of foster youth who crossover to the Juvenile Justice System in July at the State Capitol.

The goal of this hearing was to obtain information on foster youth who crossover into the juvenile system. Foster youth were on hand to offer their personal experiences as well as advocates who outlined data including best practices.

Robert Taylor, Chief Probation Officer for Los Angeles County, testified that at one time there were approximated 50 percent of the youth in Los Angeles' juvenile system who had been in the foster care system at some point in their life. Other panelists stated that it was difficult to compile the data because state agencies use different systems to collect data.

"That's not good enough. We have to get our arms around the whole issue if we truly are trying to improve the foster care system. If there is an obstacle that we do not address it can impede our efforts. This hearing is the first step to making sure this issue stays on the table as we address the needs and concerns of our foster youth, who are our responsibility." --- Majority Leader Karen Bass

The hearing also included panels with youth, advocates and representatives from various county and state systems. Attendees will also have a chance to provide public comments.

Bass Supports Respect Me Coalition Campaign

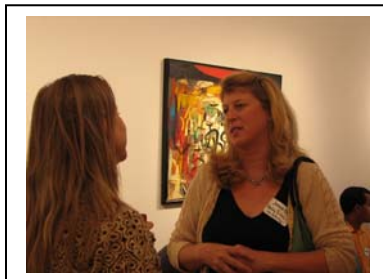

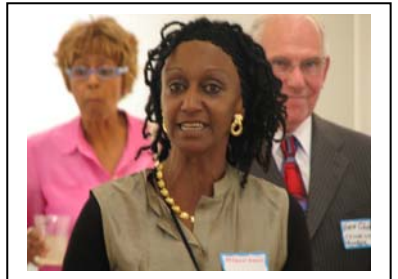

Assembly Majority Leader Karen Bass issued her support behind the Respect Me Coalition Campaign, which is a coalition of African American women who have joined together to fight the negative images in the media of women.

"I support and applaud the efforts of the Respect Me Coalition Campaign. It's evident that we must address the issue of the desensitization that has eclipsed our community, making it acceptable to use inappropriate language when referring to women especially black women. I am proud of this coalition of women whose stance echoes the voice of women from around the country that enough is enough!" --- Assembly Majority Leader Karen Bass
